Murder Near Clarksville.—Hopkinsville Brakeman Hurt—Wife Beater in Hot-Medical Water Discovered—Vein of Coal Struck.

Strong Steam of Sulphur Water.

Mr. W. J. Davidson on Saturday struck a fine stream of sulphur water in the yard of his residence on South Main street. The stream was located by Mr. H. A. Williams, who claims to be a "water witch," and at a depth of ten feet the auger struck rock which continued to a depth of 140 feet. It appears to be solid stone in three strata, the first was white limestone, then blue limestone and last a soft white stone. Late Saturday evening the auger dropped through the rock, and at a depth of 150 feet the stream was discovered. The gas came gushing out of the hole and a strong smell of sulphur all over that part of the city left no doubts as to the character of the water. By Sunday morning the hole had risen to a depth of 102 feet in the well. The water is very strong. It is even stronger than Blue Lick, which seems to resemble. In color it is blue or slate color, and sulphur, salt and magnesia are evidently among the ingredients. It is so strong that it is unpalatable, but persons fond of sulphur water pronounce it of the finest quality. All day yesterday people looked to the well to try the water. Mr. Davidson will have it analyzed as soon as possible, to ascertain its medicinal value. If the water comes up to the expectations of all who have seen it, the well will be a bonanza for its owner. It is located within a few steps of the street, and within two feet of the alley, separating Mr. Davidson's lot from that of Mr. L. H. McKee.

Another Murder Near Clarksville.

Last Friday night at the Goodlett farm, about two miles from Clarksville, Edwin Shanklin shot Garnett Richardson, death resulting early Saturday morning. The two men had been cultivating the farm, which was owned by Richardson, who was unmarried. Shanklin and his wife, it seems, had gone there to live in order that Mrs. Shanklin could manage the domestic affairs. The men had not been getting along well together for some time, and the altercation which led to the tragedy began at the supper table. Richardson advanced on Shanklin with a knife, when Shanklin shot him fatally, as above stated. Shanklin surrendered to the authorities and was put in jail. Both men were citizens of good standing in the county. This is the fourth man shot to death in Montgomery county within the last three months.

Penbrooke Splinters.

PENBROKE, Ky., June 28.—The Baptist Sunday school of our town will have a union picnic on Wednesday July 8. A pleasant time is anticipated.

Mrs. Jim Denney will return Saturday to her home in Elkton after a pleasant visit to her parents. A great treat is anticipated in hearing Gen. Gordon in his famous lecture next Friday night, July 6th. A large audience will greet him.

Miss Lucy Brille, of Russellville, is the guest of Misses Amelia and Charlie Radford of the county.

Mrs. Dr. Alex Campbell and children, of Hopkinsville, are visiting in our midst this week.

Shot in the Jaw.

A shooting took place near Bolivar, on the Clarksville pike, last Tuesday, between two negroes. A negro man named Dyeus found in his wife's possession a tin type of another negro, who was an acquaintance. He immediately attacked his "friend" and pulling his pistol from his belt, fired, inflicting a very painful, but not a very dangerous wound. Dyeus then fled and had not been heard from at last accounts. A warrant has been sworn out for his arrest.

Killing Near Longview.

Bud Williams and Jim Young, both colored, had a row near Longview, Thursday and a scuffle ensued. Both had their pistols out. Williams shot Young in the bowels of the wound the next day. Williams was arrested, and admitted the killing, but claimed it was accidental. He is now in jail and will have an examining trial before Judge Breathitt this week.

Fine Farm Sold.

THURSDAY, June 27.—The fine and fertile stock farm of S. J. Banks, one mile from town, owned by Col. J. T. Evans, was sold to the Camp Bros., for the sum of $52,500 per acre, on usual terms. The farm contains 325 acres and is one of the many fine and well improved farms of South Todd.

Business is on the improve in every department.

A LIFE FOR A LIFE.

A Bloody Murder Speedily Avenged in Trigg County Thoroughly.

Particulars of a bloody affair in Trigg county last Thursday have just reached this city. It happened "between the rivers," near Golden Pond. An ex-convict named Colston, who served out a term for cattle stealing and was released about three months ago, was the principal actor. In a row over a woman named Rhodes, a relative of his, Colston shot and badly wounded a man named Rhodes, and went off to get another load of ammunition and when he returned found a young man named Hammond administering to the wounded man's needs in his helpless condition. Without a word he fired upon Hammond and killed him outright. Colston and the woman then fled together in a boat and a posse was soon organized to pursue them. The posse came upon them after they had left the boat and firing upon Colston killed him. The woman then seized Colston's gun and attempted to fire but she too was shot and killed before she could shoot the weapon. The desperado who was killed was a notorious tough. He was the same man who shot and wounded Wm. Wadlington some time ago while Wadlington was trying to arrest him. The woman who caused the trouble bore a very bad character and the death of both of them was a good riddance to the community. Hammond was a young man of good character. Rhodes was still alive at last accounts.

PROF. L. MCARTNEY.

The New Superintendent of Public Schools Elected Last week.

The board of trustees of the Hopkinsville Public Schools elected Prof. Livingston McCartney Thursday night to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Dietrich. There were fifty applicants and the contest finally narrowed down to Prof. McCartney and Prof. S. L. Frogge. On the ballot that elected Prof. McCartney received five votes and the election was then made unanimous. The new superintendent is 34 years old and has a wife and three children. He was born in New York and educated at Geneva, N. Y., and Chicago. From both schools he graduated with the honors of his class. He has had eleven years of experience in public school work, having been superintendent at Sioux City, S. D., and Hannibal, Mo. He is now principal of the High School at Omaha, Neb., which position he resigns on account of the severity of the climate in winter.

His recommendations are of the very highest character and personally Prof. McCartney is a pleasant, unassuming gentleman of scholarly attainments and superior qualifications for school work. He is small of stature, but energetic and resolute in all his movements. He strikes one as being thoroughly business and a splendid all-round school man. Prof. McCartney will move his family to the city within about 30 days.

Todd county Crop Report.

TRENTON, June 27.—Wheat is about all cut and the threshers are moving in every direction. Half crop is the estimate put upon the crop by the best farmers. Oats are very fine both winter and spring. Hay crop very poor. Corn looking splendid. Three-fourths of the tobacco set is infested by the grasshoppers. Old tobacco all sold.

Landlaid them in Prison.

Deputy Sheriff H. H. Goley carried Jim Elliott and Wyatt Melvin to the Eddyville Penitentiary Friday. Melvin and Elliott are the negroes who held up and robbed Mr. P. J. Tandy, near Penbrooke, about ten days ago. Elliott will serve 10 years and Melvin 5. The third man has not yet been captured.

Bill Durrett Caged.

Bill Durrett, col., of Oakley, charged with the crime of wife beating, was arrested in Clarksville, Friday, and officer Stafford arrived in this city the same night with the prisoner, who was at once placed in jail. Durrett's trial takes place before Judge Breathitt to-day.

Accident to a Brakeman.

Mr. Geo. Savage, of this city, a who is in the L. & N. freight service as a brakeman, had one of his hands badly mashed while coupling cars Friday, and will be off duty some time in consequence.

Struck a Fine Vein.

On last Wednesday the Seebree Coal Co. struck a fine vein of coal about six feet thick at a depth of 163 feet. The shaft was sunk about half a mile north of town and the new mine promises to be a paying one.

THE TICKET ENTIRE.

THE COMBINATION'S SLATE SMASHED ON TWO OFFICES.

For Treasurer and Hale for Secretary of the slate was in the treasurer's race, when R. C. Ford, the young mountaineer, turned down W. H. Gardner. In the race for secretary of state, the combination first picked on Metcalfe and then changed its plans and attempted to boost Stoddard Johnson up.

THE TICKET.

For Governor.
P. W. Hardin, of Mercer county.
For Lieutenant-Governor.
R. T. Tyler, of Fulton county.
For Treasurer.
R. C. Ford, of Clay county.
For Auditor.
L. C. Norman, of Boone county.
For Attorney General.
W. J. Hendrick, of Fleming county.
For Register of the Land Office.
G. B. Swango, of Wolfe county.
For Secretary of State.
H. S. Hale, of Graves county.
For Supt. of Public Instruction.
Ed. Porter Thompson, of Owen county.
For Commissioner of Agriculture.
Lon B. Coss, of Jefferson county.

The convention finished its work and adjourned Thursday night at 7 o'clock. Long before that time the great body of the delegates had departed leaving their proxies in the hands of those most interested in the scramble for minor offices.

The combination was broken in two places Thursday. The first smashing of the slate was in the treasurer's race, when R. C. Ford, the young mountaineer, turned down W. H. Gardner. In the race for secretary of state, the combination first picked on Metcalfe and then changed its plans and attempted to boost Stoddard Johnson up.

The first ballot for treasurer stood Herndon, 172; Kendall, 91; Ford, 270; Gardner, 26; Kenton, 58.

On the second ballot the convention stampeded to Ford. Gardner betrayed the silver men and they did him up by going to the mountain man.

L. C. Norman was nominated for auditor by acclamation. For register the lead office the first ballot resulted: Swango, 269; Glenn, 207; Harrison, 165; Brinkley, 127; McCoy, 109.

On the second ballot it looked like a stampede to Glenn, the Louisville delegation going to him almost solidly. Upon a recapitulation Swango won, the vote standing: Swango, 262; Glenn, 245.

The movement for a fight against Hendrick for attorney general fell through. Chapeze Wathen's friends were going to put him in nomination and he would have had a good vote. The Louisville delegation, who first pressed McChord to enter this race, deserted when the L. and N. turned loose. Hendrick was nominated without opposition.

The race for secretary of state developed the most exciting contest of all. Chairman Berry left the chair and put J. Stoddard Johnson in nomination. H. S. Hale's name was presented by C. P. Newell, of Mason county. J. Edwin Rowe, of Owensboro, offered the name of J. W. Headley, while C. W. Metcalfe was placed in nomination by C. H. Price, of Bell county. Hale's nomination was seconded by Prof. J. C. Speight, of Hickman county.

The result of the first ballot was as follows: Headley, 280; Metcalfe, 222; Hale, 227; Johnson, 150. Great excitement and confusion ensued during the call of the second ballot. Before it was concluded, Headley arose in the convention, withdrew his name and cast the solid vote of Louisville for Hale. A recapitulation of the vote was ordered.

The result of the second ballot was announced after one of the most disorderly scenes of the convention. An effort was made to hold up the announcement until enough changes could be had to drop Metcalfe instead of Johnson. The chairman parleyed and Metcalfe jumped upon the stage shaking his fist in the chairman's face, his followers crowding around. Metcalfe also jumped on the other side of the chairman and after a threatening scene he and Hale both left the stage and order was restored.

The second ballot resulted: Metcalfe, 255; Hale, 308; Johnson, 245. The third ballot then proceeded with Johnson's name dropped.

When the third ballot was half finished, Hale had such a lead that Metcalfe withdrew. Hale was unanimously nominated. The committee on permanent organization made its final report. Few changes are made in the party organization, the manner of choosing the precinct committeemen. The rules presented and adopted are as follows:

The committee on permanent organization continued on fifth page.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC BATHS.

The Current Can Now Be Obtained from Lighting Circuits.

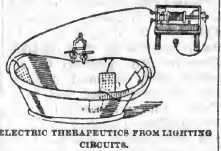

A Curative Agent Which Is Very Popular in Europe—The Simple Apparatus Used for Single Baths in Residences.

Electricity taken from lighting circuits is now employed in Europe as a curative agent. The current is controlled by suitable instruments, so that the tension is below the point where harm could be inflicted to delicate persons. Electricity of this character has probably not made as great an advance as its importance merits, but this may be largely attributable to the state of imprudence of electro-therapeutics or to the great difficulties in the way of the employment of the electrical apparatus themselves.

The idea of employing water in a bath for conveying the current to a patient is almost as old as the therapeutic application of dynamic electricity, the electricity being used in two forms—the continuous current and the faradic bath. The former is largely employed in Germany, while recently interesting researches upon the faradic current have been made by French, English and Italian physicians. These experimentalists followed up the peculiar effect, slightly increased by the "Arsonval" to be produced on the human body by alternating currents of a definite form—the sinusoidal form in which for a given maximum intensity the instantaneous variations are slightest.

In France the employment of this form of current has been very successful, the method followed considerably simplifying the apparatus required for the installation. The currents used are extremely weak. In order to lower the tension of the current of the lighting circuit and graduate its strength, a transformer is employed, which lowers the maximum required, and in a large installation each bath is arranged with a transformer with a sliding armature, enabling the tension to be varied gradually from fifteen volts to one or two volts.

Where only a single bath is to be fitted up in a private residence, there is employed a combination in series of a shocking coil and a small transformer. The whole is placed in a little marble receptacle above the bath and at one side, as shown in the accompanying illustration, reproduced from the Review

ELECTRIC THERAPEUTICS FROM LIGHTING CIRCUITS.

Internationale de l'Electricite. The secondary of the transformer moves along slides and at passing the current outside enables the current to be regulated from a maximum to a minimum strength. The primary circuit is provided with an interrupter. The first measurement of interest is that of the resistance of the bath when filled with ordinary water, and also the intensity of the current and the difference of potential at the electrodes. The determination of the resistance of the body when immersed in the bath is found by first testing the quantity of current required when the subject is in the bath, then finding the resistance of the same quantity of water without the subject, and then adding the requisite amount of water necessary to bring the bath to the exact level when the subject was immersed and determining the current required to overcome the resistance.

The conclusions reached by these experiments were that, with water of comparatively good conductivity, the human body when submerged offers a resistance somewhat above that of the current passing through the middle section of the body is equal to about one-tenth of the total current passing through the bath.

The employment of electricity by the utilization of the industrial currents, which are within the reach of all physicians, connected as they are with the lighting system of towns, would seem to open up a wider field of application for this method of medical treatment.

It is on the Contribution Plate. A well-known bishop tells a story of a countryman who, after having been liberally taken half a crown out of his pocket as he brought it up to the communion table and slipped it into his pocket, "I don't know," said the bishop, "and intended to charge him with it at the end of the service, but carried away by the simplicity of the countryman, I forgot about it. Next day I remembered and spoke about it. 'Oh, sir,' said the old man, 'never you worry about that; that half dollar has done good service for many years. I keep it to put down first, and then the gentler, seeing a poor man like me put a half dollar in the plate, can't a person give less?'

Very high prices have been paid for furs this year in London. A sea otter skin, stripped off glove fashion, without being cut down the stomach, sold for $1,125. A black fox skin, with record for a single skin, and one black fox skin sold for $850. They want to Russia.

WILL HE BE SEATED?

Mr. Dupont's Peculiar Election to the United States Senate.

Just before adjourning the republican members of the Delaware legislature elected Col. Henry A. Dupont to the United States senate. The governor of the state, however, pronounced the election irregular, and an appeal will have to be taken to the senate.

Col. Henry A. Dupont, who may succeed Senator Higgins, was born July 30, 1838, in New Castle county, Del., and besides being a millionaire railroad president, is a member of one of the historic families of that state. He is a son of Gen. Henry Dupont, who is credited with having held the Delaware troops in line for the union at the breaking out of the rebellion, and is a great-grandson of Eleutherius Dupont de Nemours, the founder of the great Dupont powder works near Wilmington. Col. Dupont was appointed to a cadetship at West Point, and graduated from the military academy in May, 1861. He immediately entered the army of the north, choosing the artillery branch of the service. He served with bravery and distinction, seeing out of the war with the rank of colonel. The late President Hayes in some of his writings paid the young artillery officer a high and deserved compliment for the courage and dash with which he made an advance on the enemy while in an engagement under the Ohio general.

After the war Col. Dupont was associated with the various business enterprises of the family until 1878, when he entered the railroad service, in which he has continued to the present time. He is the partner in the firm of E. I. Dupont de Nemours & Co., generally known as the Dupont Powder company, but takes little part in its active management, that duty falling to his cousin, Eugene Dupont, who is a practical powder-maker. Since 1878 Col. Dupont's time and attention have been chiefly absorbed by his railroad service. He began his career in that line as director of the Wilmington & Northern railroad.

REAR ADMIRAL ALMY.

He Had More Active Sea Service Than Any Other Naval Officer.

The family and friends of Rear Admiral Almy, Washington, are owing much alarmed about his illness. Owing to his advanced age few hopes are entertained that he will survive the present attack, as he is very ill.

A native of Rhode Island, where he was born April 25, 1818, John J. Almy was early induced to a life on the water. He was but 14 when he became a midshipman and cruised in the Mediterranean and on the coast of Brazil. At twenty he was a paid midshipman, and occupied several minor positions in the service during the next few years. He joined his commission as lieutenant in 1841, and was attached to the Ohio in the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific during the Mexican war. In the troublous times off the coast of Nicaragua in the 50s Lieut. Almy had an important work to do. He commanded the Commodore, and in that position did his duty as creditably as to call for high commendation from the admiral commanding, Rear Admiral Paulding. That officer characterized Lieut. Almy's performance thus: "He performed his part of the work exceedingly well, and is an officer to be relied upon at all times." He commanded the Fulton in the Paraguay expedition, and on the outbreak of the civil war was made commander and did valuable service during the blockade. In 1863 he was commissioned as captain, and in December, 1869, he had the added dignity of commodore conferred upon him. Three years later he was appointed to the rank of rear admiral, and was appointed to command the United States naval forces in the Pacific. In the revolution in Hawaii he, by his action at a critical moment, saved the City of Panama and the Panama railroad from being destroyed, and afforded needed protection to both American and European residents, though he had only a comparatively small force at his immediate command. He received the thanks of the whole of the people whose interests he had so fully protected. From the king of Hawaii he received the Order of King Kamehameha I., in appreciation of courtesy and attentions bestowed upon his majesty during his journey through the United States. In 1877 he retired upon the operation of law, having performed twenty-seven years and ten months of sea service, the largest amount up to the present time of any officer in the service.

REAR ADMIRAL JOHN J. ALMY.

NOTHING BUT NEWS FOUND IN THIS COLUMN.

A Condensed Account of the Latest Happenings, Tensely Told for Busy Readers.

The hanging of "Bad" Tom Smith Friday at Jackson, Breathitt county, will occupy an important place in the history of Eastern Kentucky. After a final appeal to the Governor for mercy, and a postponement announced by the Sheriff "so that the condemned could save his soul," Smith yielded up a life that had been stained with crimes innumerable. He had been a criminal from childhood and a partisan of French-Evered feud in Perry county. On the scaffold he confessed that he had murdered six men. His statement implicated B. F. French in the plot to murder Josiah Combs. Smith was captured in the Kentucky river a short time before he was hanged, and both the baptism and the execution took place in the presence of thousands of mountain people gathered to see the first legal execution in Breathitt county.

Wm. Case, of Grinnell, Ia., has buried five children within two weeks. Diphtheria was the cause in each case. The father is blind and the five children constituted the entire family.

Commissioner Miller says the internal revenue receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 will amount to about $145,000,000. Kentucky pays about the same as last year.

It is estimated that no less than 15,000 persons participated in the services of the Epworth League at Chattanooga last week.

Edward Shaunkin shot and probably fatally wounded Garnett Richardson near Clarksville, Tenn.

Richard Croker will return to New York in September to remain until after November election.

W. J. Adkins, a Pulaski-county terror, was fired upon by ambush and killed.

Six miners were killed by an explosion in a mine near Colutian, Mexico.

Ex-President Peixoto, of Brazil is dead.

THE WILLIAM WINDOM.

Revenue Cutter Now Being Built at Dubuque, Ia.

The revenue cutter William Windom is far enough to completion to be ready for launching whenever the stage of water will permit. It is being built by the Iowa Iron Works of Dubuque, Ia., the same firm that built the Ericson, and was commenced in 1893. The estimated price is $150,000. The following are its dimensions: Length, 170 feet 8 inches over all; beam, 32 feet 14 inches; depth of hold, 14 feet. The material used for the hull is steel of the best quality, every piece of which has been subjected to the crucial test provided by the department. The boiler is of the best known as the twin screw inverted of the triple expansion type, two sets.

THE NEW TWIN SCREW REVENUE CUTTER WILLIAM WINDOM.

The dimension of the cylinders is 11 1/2, 10 1/2, and 20 1/2 inches bore by 24 inch stroke. These engines are of about 800 horse power. The boiler is of the Scotch marine type, 19 feet in diameter, 10 feet long, and built for firing at both ends. The draft when fully equipped will be seven feet.

The William Windom is built for the revenue service and its sailing ground will be in the Chesapeake bay, and its stations Baltimore and Washington. The cutter's commander has not yet been assigned. The crew will be fifty all told.

In addition to the engines it will be rigged with two masts and provided with sails. The cutter is expected to make a speed of fifteen knots an hour. The armament will consist of one pounder and two pound rapid-firing guns. The small arms will consist of 30 new and improved Jorgensen rifles, such as are furnished the navy, and an equal number of cutlasses and revolvers. The furnishings inside will be polished cherry for the ward room and solid mahogany for the cabin.

The duties of the Windom are to protect the revenue, assist vessels in distress, suppress mutinies, to see that all laws regarding commerce in the United States are properly obeyed, and render other similar service. In time of war it will cooperate with the navy. The captain will rank with lieutenant commanders in the service. There are twenty-three vessels of this character, having captain commanders in the service; eight with first lieutenant commanders and five with junior officer commanders.

The Windom is the only one of these thirty-six vessels provided with a steam expansion engine, although some are now building which will have quadruple expansion engines.

organization beg leave to report the following organization of the party: The Democratic party of Kentucky shall be governed by a state executive committee, a state central committee and county executive committee, each composed as and with the authority herein provided: The state executive committee shall consist of one member from each congressional district. The chairman of the state central committee shall be ex-officio chairman of the state executive committee, but shall have no vote except in case of a tie. Said committee shall fix the time and place of holding all state conventions, and the representation and manner of selecting delegates thereto, and for that purpose the chairman may call them together and shall do so when requested in writing by five or more members of this committee. Members of this committee may vote by proxy.

The state central committee shall consist of a member from each congressional district and two members from the state at large.

This committee shall have general authority over the organization of the party in the state and shall enact rules for the government thereof not inconsistent herewith.

This committee may, in its discretion, appoint a campaign committee of such number and with such powers as may be determined by it, to conduct state or district campaigns. Vacancies in the state executive and central committees shall be filled by the district committee in which the vacancy occurs, save to members at large of the central committee, which shall be filled by said committee.

County and legislative district committees shall consist of one member from each voting precinct to be chosen thus: In precincts where by law registration is required each voter who shall declare himself a Democrat shall then and there vote for an executive committeeman for the precinct, and the person receiving a plurality of the votes so cast shall be such committeeman. In precincts where registration is not required the Democrats of the precincts shall assemble in mass meeting at 2 o'clock on the Saturday following the first day of registration in precincts where it is required, and then select a precinct committeeman. The precinct committeemen so chosen shall constitute the county and legislative district executive committees. The members of these committees shall serve for four years and until their successors are chosen their terms to begin immediately after the November election in the year they are chosen. They shall choose a chairman. Where there are not as many as five, but more than one legislative district in a county, the Chairman of a district in or embracing a city shall be the Chairman of the County Committee, while said city shall be a precinct committeemen in the county. If there be more than one city in the county, the higher in class shall govern; if there be more districts than one in a city, the district first in numerical order shall govern, save in the city of Louisville.

The Executive Committees of all other political divisions of the State embracing more than one county shall consist of the chairman of the legislative district and county committees embraced therein, and the chairman of the county first in alphabetical order shall be chairman of such committee. Save as herein provided no committee or delegate to a convention may vote by proxy. Chairmen shall call their committees together on the written request of a third of the members, and upon his failure, those making the request may do so.

Save as to the persons named by this convention, no person who holds a Federal or appointive office or who is a candidate for an elective office shall act as a committeeman, and the happening of either shall vacate the office of committeeman.

Until the plan herein provided can be put in force, the State Central Committee shall, when deemed necessary, reorganize all executive committees.

The following state central and executive committees were announced:

- CENTRAL COMMITTEE.
- First district—W. P. Gatlin, of Calloway.
- Second district—J. W. Woodson, of Owensboro.
- Third district—J. C. Sims, of Warren.
- Fourth district—G. W. Richardson, of Meade.
- Fifth district—W. O. Head, of Louisville.
- Sixth district—J. C. Hodges, of Campbell.
- Seventh district—H. B. Beck, of Owen.
- Eighth district—Samuel Brown, of Shelby.
- Ninth district—Hanson Kennedy, of Nicholas.
- Tenth district—H. P. Thompson, of Clark.
- Eleventh district—James Garnett, of Adair.
- State-at-large—Charles R. Long, John B. Castlemann.
- EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
- First district—C. K. Wheeler, of McCracken.
- Second district—Chas. M. Meacham, of Christian.
- Third district—G. W. Roark, of

- Simpson.
- Fourth district—M. R. Hubbard, of Leno.
- Fifth district—W. B. Hoke, of Jefferson.
- Sixth district—Robert Ellis, of Carroll.
- Seventh district—W. S. McChesney, Jr. of Fayette.
- Eighth district—W. E. Varnon, of Lincoln.
- Ninth district—J. N. Kehoe, of Mason.
- Tenth district—F. A. Hopkins, of Floyd.
- Eleventh district—Green A. Denham, of Whitley.
- Nominations for superintendent of public instruction were then called for. Thompson was nominated by M. B. Bowden, of Louisville; John O. Hodges by Jerry O'Meara; C. W. Fowler by H. H. French of Montgomery. By the time the call was half over, the convention stampeded to Thompson and he was chosen by acclamation.

Judge E. B. Walker nominated Ion B. Ball for commissioner of agriculture; Harvey Smith named W. E. Minor, of Breckenridge; H. A. Trumbo nominated C. V. Wilson; Trumbo was nominated by J. C. Lyons, of Wolfe, and O. H. Waddill, of Pulaski, nominated S. M. Boone. Ball swept thirds and the ballot was not finished. He was nominated by acclamation.

At the close of the nominations the following resolution, offered by Mr. Charles M. Meacham, of Christian county was adopted:

Resolved, That we hereby tender our thanks to the temporary and permanent Chairmen, Secretaries and Sergeants-at-Arms of this convention for the fair, impartial and efficient manner in which they have discharged the important duties of their respective positions.

Upon the heels of this the following resolution was adopted, half of those in the convention initiating the crowing of a rooster to signify an affirmative vote:

Resolved, That the rooster or chicken cock be, and it is hereby adopted, as the emblem or device to be used on the ballots of the Democratic party at all elections, and that the same be duly certified by the proper officers of this convention.

At 7 o'clock sharp a motion to adjourn sine die went through with all the lung power left in the jaded delegates.

Excursion to Denver.

At no time have our people had such a magnificent opportunity to visit and enjoy the sights and wonders of the great West as is offered on the account of the annual meeting of the N. E. A., at Denver. The rates are exceptionally low and are open to all. The round trip rate to Denver is $32.42, plus the Association fee of $2, which the meals guarantee to the Association. Tickets are good until Sept. 1, by depositing same with the agent in Denver. Tickets will be on sale July 4th, 5th and 6th. It is about a 39 hour run to Denver from Hopkinsville, and those leaving here at 10:10 p. m. will arrive in Denver at 7 p. m. on the second day of the convention. Denver side trips have been arranged at unprecedentedly low rates and extended time: City of Mexico, round trip $40; Yellowstone Park, including all expense for stages, guides, provisions, etc. for 53 days, visit, $70 and out.

Tickets from here will be by way of Colorado Springs, on the Union Pacific Road, giving a chance to visit Pike's Peak for $4 additional, and returning via U. P. to Omaha or St. Louis, or on the Missouri Pacific, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy or Santa Fe roads.

Ten steam threshers are running in the vicinity of Beverly to-day. The yield is fair and the quality excellent.

Gen. Gordon at Pembroke.

Gen. John B. Gordon will lecture at the hall in Pembroke next Friday night, July 5. A large number of tickets have already been sold, and the prospects are flattering for a full house. It is quite likely that a crowd from this city will go out and hear him.

Notice of an advance of 10 per cent. in the wages of all employees, to go into effect July 1, which was posted Saturday at the mills of the Lava Iron and Steel Co., of Scranton, Pa., will affect between 5,000 and 6,000 men, and will increase the payroll of the company about $25,000 per month.

Tullahoma Team Next.

The base ball management has one of the strongest aggregations of ball players to meet the Hopkinsville Athletics on the 4, 5 and 6 of Tullahoma Tenn.; this team is composed of gentlemen ball players, and to win these games it will be a hot contest.

The locals have been strengthened by one more good pitcher from Nashville. Ottensville is his name, and he is known by all the lovers of the game.

The home team will play as follows on the 4th: Hord, c; Schmidt, p; Wornack, 1st; Richardson, 2nd; Morris, 3rd; Thorpe, s; Ashford, 1st; Davis, c; Ottensville, pitcher. Ottensville pitches on Friday and Schmidt on Saturday.

The Tullahoma team brings the following men: Hydelott, c; Chockley, p; G. Barnes, 1st; Wilson, 2nd; Jones, 3rd; Stewart, s; J. Barnes, 1st; Shopper, c; Bailey, r, f, and pitcher, substitute, Campbell.

This is an extraordinary strong team and will come near taking one or two games.

Everybody must turn out and give the boys a send-off.

The locals are practicing hard every day and they invite you all to come out and watch them practice. They practice from 3 until 5.

Games on the 4 and 5 are called at 3 p. m., on the 6th at 2:30 p. m.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and is a perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
